

Sprint1 Report by Wabi-Sabi, July 9th, 2019

- Actions to stop doing: Trying to finish the task by himself when it requires lots of work. Unorganized scrum meetings.
- Actions to start doing: Team should be not hesitant for helping each other. If one member gets stuck or feel overwhelmed, he should immediately reach out for help and communicate his situation. More communication. Set a time for scrum meetings and decide what we will do for the meetings.
- •Actions to keep doing: Working in small groups has been working well for our team. We were able to work efficiently when we worked in 2-3 member group either online or at the library.
- Work completed/not completed:
 - “As a user, I want a website that is easy to navigate”
 - “As a user, I want to be able to create an account”
 - “As a seller, I want to be able to list items on the website”

Those three lines are our user stories for sprint 1 and we completed except “A website that is easy to navigate”. We do have a website that can navigate, but TA commented that it could be easier to navigate if we work on UIs and tabs, so we cannot really say this task was complete. However, we were able to finish additional tasks that were not on user stories, so we are satisfied with our progress.
- Work completion rate: We did not track daily hour spent working on project for sprint1, since we all had to spend many hours learning a new developing tool(django, web development) together. Knowing that all members have learned good amount for this project, we will be better at tracking and finishing the work in the following sprint.
